

Colour Chemistry – Room 6

Science and Art certainly are a good mix. The Year 3 students have been learning about matter, and the relationships between solids, liquids and gases. This knowledge was then applied in this eye-catching activity when they mixed primary colours in test tubes to create the secondary colours. Don't the gaseous bubbles in the background look terrific?

