

Year 4 Students

Consider Construction Materials

Creative and investigative minds were at work in the Year 4 classroom as students experimented with a range of materials that can be used in construction. Their resulting model houses are very eye-catching, and it is clear to see that they learned a number of clever building techniques.

