Colours of Autumn leaf walk with Kindy B

On Wednesday 3rd May, Kindy B went walking into town to observe the beautiful colours of Autumn.

After learning how deciduous trees lose their leaves after giving us a lovely colour display, we walked through town identifying as many deciduous trees we could find. We finished up at Manjin Park where there was a spectacular display of Autumn colour.

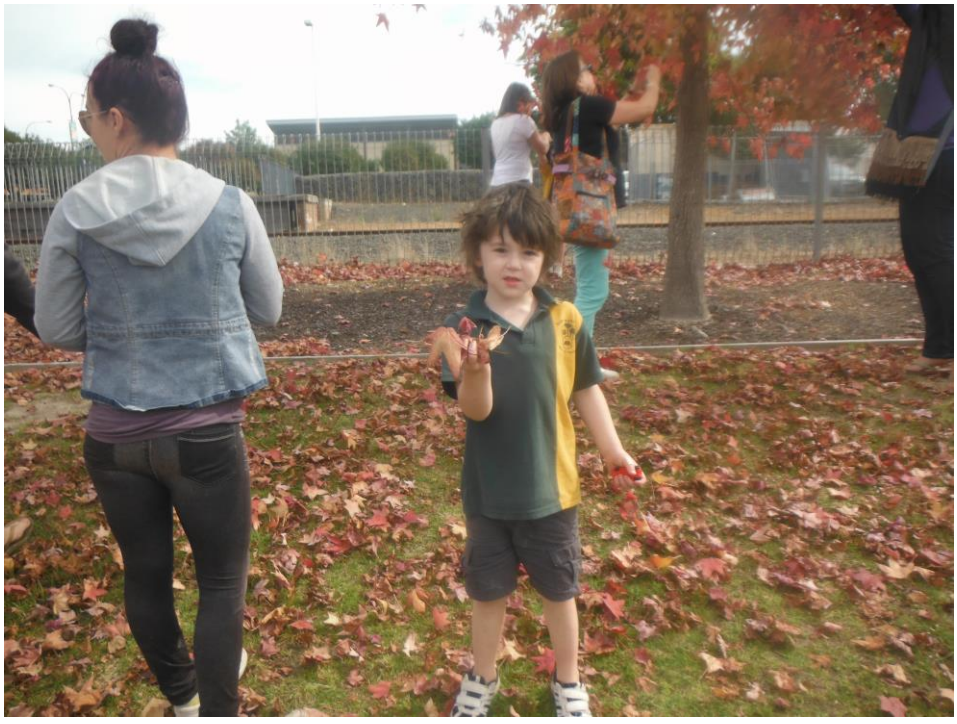
We collected many leaves to take bake to Kindy for craft projects as well as listening to the crunching sound the leaves make when you step on them!

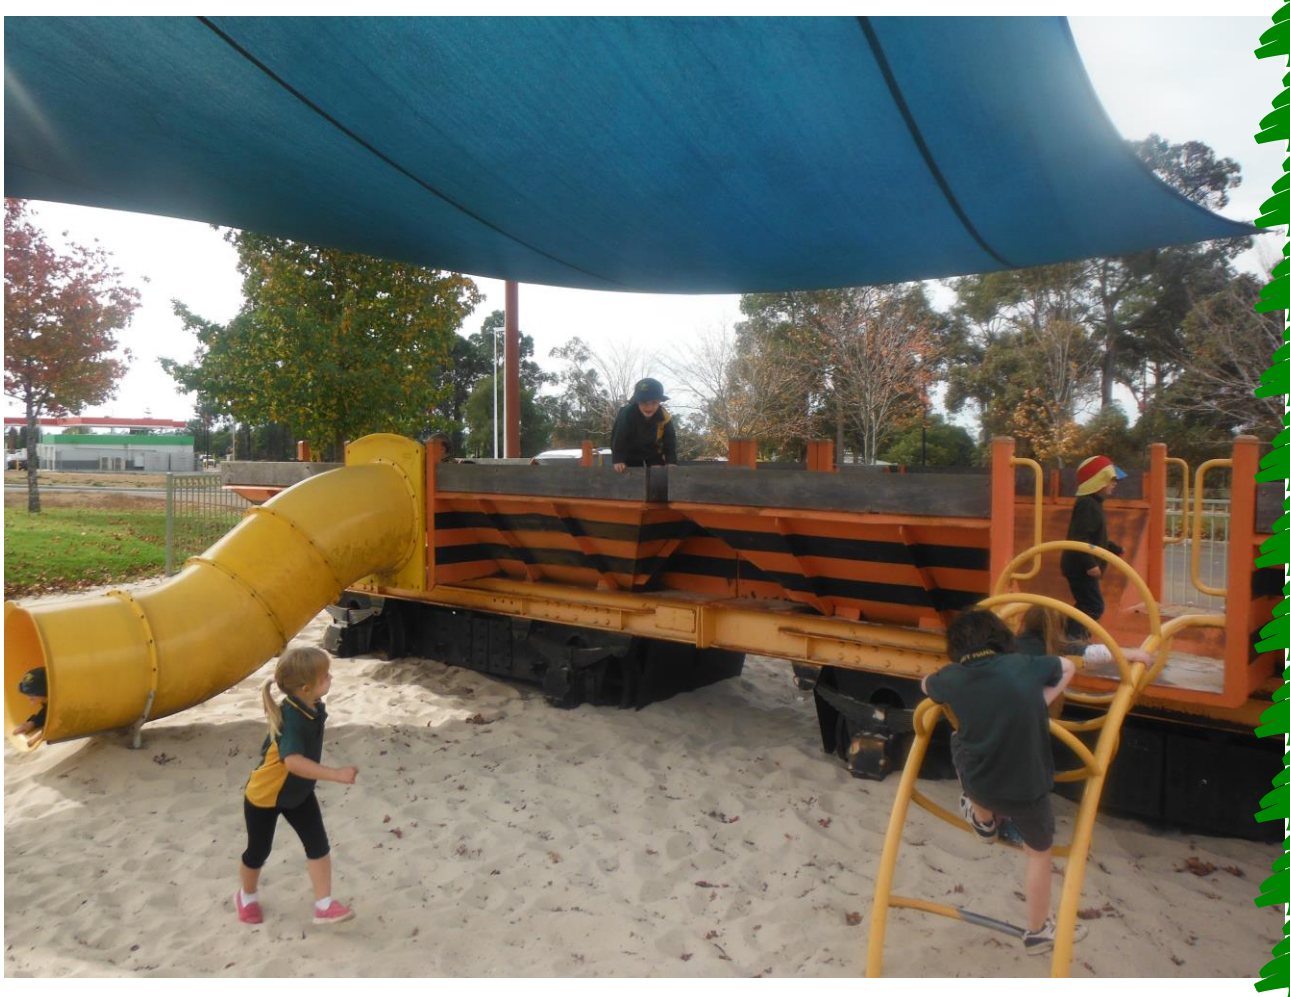
After a snack of watermelon, cheese and crackers we enjoyed a play at the playground.

Here are some photos of our walk:

EAST MANJIMUP
STRIVE TO SUCCEED

EAST MANJIMUP





On the way back to Kindy, we walked through the bush marvelling at what the bushfire had done to the trees. It was amazing how one side of the path was black and the other a vibrant green.

We certainly found out about colours on our walk, and will be sure to return during Spring time to see a myriad of different colours then.

The colours of the bushfire: